The Story:

Well, you have to be into submission (at least a bit) to enjoy this sort of thing. If you have never tried it and are interested, you could do much worse than Madame Tachibana; she does a kind of 'beginner's sampler pack' -- not too rough on the neophyte, which is what I had.

The problem with S&M and similar forms of role-playing is that, for me, it's hard to keep a straight face (and an erect penis) in the face of such ludicrous play-acting. To be fair, that's more my problem than it is Madame Tachibana's. She is actually a very accomplished practitioner of Japanese rope bondage, probably the best you will find in Europe. In addition to rope bondage, all the other more usual Western types of bondage are on offer as well: handcuffs, cages, masks, whips, candles, anal vibrators, etc.

Actual sex, by the way, is not on offer -- you just get restrained and abused in various ways. At the end she will apply a vibrator to the willy and finish you off as if she were milking a cow (that's the point, you see...). Of course if you became a regular customer and got to know her personally more might be possible, I don't know.
