The Story:

The Pam's Party experience is quite something - not for the faint-hearted, but plenty to recommend it. This was my third visit in a couple of months (some recommendation by itself) - Pam herself is very welcoming and helpful. I get the impression they never turn anyone away, which can lead to it feeling pretty crowded - yesterday I didn't manage to get near the stunning Laura who was usually to be found servicing at least three blokes at once! I shouldn't complain, as I managed two sessions with her on my previous visit, which was a bit less full. However, I was able to have sessions with Tina (a good bj leading to a rapid first cum) and Valentina, who realised that I had been waiting for her for a while and seemed to enjoy my oral attentions (getting quite wet) before a satisfying doggy fuck for my second pop. There are refreshments available downstairs (guests are asked to bring their own drink) and I'm sure I would have managed more action had I been able to stay longer. There is quite a bit of waiting around, but the compensation is that there is always plenty of action to watch (the porn playing in two of the rooms is pretty superfluous). I've not yet managed to spend any time with Diane, who seems to choose her own regulars to go with, often the older gents, but the sight of one of them giving her prolonged oral during my first visit and her ecstatic reaction to it was almost worth the admission price by itself. I will admit to feeling a bit uncomfortable in such close proximity to so many men, but the rewards if you hang on in there are considerable and even if you only get a bit of action you can't complain at that price. There is a remarkable mix of types among the punters, with most possible varieties of age, shape, race and class - despite my reservations about the whole experience I think I'm hooked!
