The Premises:

Easy to find parlour on small industrial estate. It has its own car parking, and rear entrance. It's a former hairdressing salon. Inside the parlour is comfortable and feels safe. Receptionist was friendly and provided tea while waiting.

The Lady:

Friendly mid 30s scouser with enormous natural breasts.

The Story:

I went for the full service nuru massage at ?125 for the hour (a half hour is ?90). It was a very cold day, so I had to wait until the nuru room was warmed up, but tea and a chat were provided so no problem. The nuru room has a good shower, a nuru area with a double air mattress, and a bed. There's also a BDSM frame and some related apparatus, but that's not my thing.

The nuru gel comes in a small pot and is warmed in advance. The session started with a shared shower with Jody, so I got my first feel of those fantastic tits. Then I lay face down on the mattress while Jody applied the warm slippery gel (nice!). She began with hands then moved on to body to body. The feeling of her huge tits and erect nipples on my back, bum, and balls was really arousing. Turned over later for a similar experience from the front. The sight of my cock slipping between those tits, accompanied by bouts of OWO, got me as hard as I've been for ages. The nuru massage was great fun, with lots of laughs as you both try to stay on the mattress which by now is very slippery indeed. After about 40 minutes, we moved to the bed to finish. More OWO and a handjob over Jody's tits (where else?) did the trick. A long shower is needed to get the gel off, particularly if you've got some body hair, but the shower here is good. Jody was friendly and chatty and never rushed me at any stage. I got dressed, got a peck on the cheek, then left completely satisfied.

If you haven't had a nuru massage before, you've really got to try it. What it would be like with someone less friendly and less voluptuous I don't know. The receptionist said that all the girls like doing nuru, but my only experience is with Jody, and that was great. Guys with mobility problems might have some difficulties, but for anyone else, just go for it!
