The Premises:

Nice flat in Gas Street off Broad Street. Pain to get to with traffic and had to park ten mins walk away.

The Lady:

Stunner. 21, long red hair, enhanced breasts, nicely done. Pics on website accurate and recent.

The Story:

Was very happy when greeted by Phoenix. Very friendly and chatty as well as beautiful. We freshened up and she came in the bedroom wearing a tiny black g-string and wonderbra. Looked amazing.

Attempted to get down to business after some more chat. It was now things started to go downhill. She kept moving her face to the side when I wanted to kiss. I commented she didn't like kissing. She said she didn't and the agency didn't know and no-one had 'dobbbed' her in yet?. She also said if she kissed one client she'd 'have to kiss all clients'?

We moved on to OWO. This consisted of gentle wanking for a minute followed by her taking less than a centimetre in her mouth for five seconds. I tried gently to encourage the situation, to no avail. I was becoming rather irritated.

After some oral on her, during which she made some little noises, on with the protection for missionary and cowgirl. Although sex was emotionless, she has such an awesome body and gorgeous face. Had this not been the case I would not have been erect. I asked her to stop as I was close and she said 'Oh, just let it go?'. I wonder why. She didn't stop and I came.

I then decided to get dressed and depart. More small talk where Phoenix commented how she's a lap dancer and money in that industry has almost completely dried up with the recession. I assume this is why she's trying her hand at escorting.

Back at my vehicle, I called the agency and spoke to the lady I'd made the booking with. I told her that Phoenix had not provided kissing and OWOTC. Her response had me speechless for a second or two: 'well, I'm not surprised'. Composing myself, I enquired as to why I'd been told the services were offered when they clearly weren't. It was at this point the lady became abrupt and impatient.

'You didn't ask for kissing and OWOTC?'; yes I did.

'I said GFE was offered. Kissing and OWOTC is PSE?'; now I'm being educated. On this logic girlfriends don't kiss.

'This is my agency and I don't lie?'; yes, you do.

I mentioned I'd be leaving a report on punternet to inform other potential clients and she became immature saying 'ooh, I'm really scared'. I attempted to bring the conversation back to a grown-up level and she just terminated the call.

If I were 22 I'd have been very happy with Phoenix. But at '180 for the services provided it's overpriced by around '100. I left feeling ripped off but on reflection the morning after I feel sorry for Phoenix who clearly does not enjoy the profession she has chosen. For '180 I should be feeling fantastic, not like I've almost violated a young girl. Although, wonder who been more naive with regard to this entire episode.

I'll summarise by saying my dissatisfaction is with the agency not Phoenix. It is absolutely the right of the lady to offer or decline to offer services. However, it is the responsibility of the agency to make sure the advertising is correct and not to mislead clients. It astounds me that with the recession, rather than service providers offering better services at a reasonable price to gain and retain clients, they are charging more for fewer and poorer service.

NB, I chose this agency as Bella and Executive from B'ham had not answered my call. Wish they had.

I expect to cease using escorts for now.
