The Premises:

This street is massage central in Bristol with four parlours within 400 yards. The area is OK and The New Exchange has recently been re-fitted and is very presentable inside. In fact it was hearing about this that attracted me to the place.

The Lady:

Nice curves and attractive body

The Story:

Sonia is only 19 and I would say a little inexperienced. She is very friendly and talkative, but having meticulously noted down what time I arrived and therefore being rather conscious of the half an hour available, I could honestly have done with less talk and more action. The massage was a very rudimentary stroking of my back while she chatted, not in the least bit erotic I'm afraid.

I like reverse oral so I called time on the massage and she laid back and let me get on with it. Very early on she said I was good at it, but from there on in there was no reaction from her at all, she just lay there staring at the ceiling. Normally I find giving oral a real turn on, especially when the recipient is clearly enjoying it and turned on, which they usually are, but this was going nowhere. I gave up. A more experienced WG would have at least faked it if she wasn't really in to what I was doing.

So far my cock was showing zero interest and she really had to coax him into action. Once he was up I got her into doggy position and finished the job.

Sonia is a nice lovely chatty girl and many may appreciate her fiendlines, but for me this was one of the most disappointing punts I have had. Sorry!
