The Premises:

A modern(ish) block a stones throw from Leicester Square. Quite anonymous and discreet.

The Lady:

A pretty and petite lady in her mid 20s from the Baltic states. Slim and toned she must do pilates or yoga as she was lovely and firm.

The Story:

Serena had been on my list of ladies to visit for quite some time albeit relatively low down. I had been putting off the visit as I suppose I was constantly having my head turned by various PN field reports and recommendations on the PN message board for other girls. In my experience, many of these visits did not live up to the hype. During a chat with a friend about these disappointments Serena's name came up as an antidote to these along with a glowing recommendation, so I wasted no time moving her to the top of the list and calling to make an appointment. Serena was busy when I called but I texted with my booking request and with a little bit of back and forth, the booking was set. Serena's excellent directions got me to the flat with no drama and she met me at the door with a warm welcome. I had booked the 120 minute session, which consists of 90 minutes of massage and up to 30 minutes of preliminary chat. While 30 minutes sounds like a long preamble, once you meet Serena, you realize that she takes her role very seriously and is determined to make the experience as memorable and enjoyable for you as possible. The chat consists of some questions about what you want to get out of the session, your motivations, previous experiences, likes, dislikes etc. I actually really enjoyed the first half hour, because not only is Serena very interesting, but there is something very endearing about her. English is not her first language, but she speaks it much better than she thinks she does. I think that she uses the initial time to calm you down, regulate both your breathing and mind and open you up to the sensation overload that awaits. After the chat it was off for a shower. Don't be alarmed by the photos of naked men in the bathroom, Serena shares the flat with a male masseur who caters for men too. After a quick shower it was back to the massage room and a lie down on the massage table. You can tell that Serena has a background in therapeutic massage because unlike many other ladies who give either a very soft massage or something very ineffectual, hers was excellent, firm and stimulating. It gradually got more sensual as she made sure she gave lots of attention to the erogenous zones. This evolved into body to body and a nice oily slide before it was time to turn over. Similar treatment for the front but now I could see her and how focused she is on giving you the maximum pleasure. The intensity rose as did the speed and variety of movements, the body to body being especially arousing. Serena is very petite and flexible and can therefore reach the parts other masseuses can't. She was very good at setting the tempo and gradually raising the intensity until the inevitable happened. She is comfortable with some light respectful touching and seems to genuinely derive pleasure from watching you receive her touch. I found this to be one of the most arousing things of the session. The climax was very powerful but there was something else about it, something intangible, but almost profound about the whole experience. Serena's massage is about as far from the usual rub and tug as it is possible to be. If you are becoming disillusioned by the offerings in the sensual massage scene, I would recommend a trip to see Serena who will not only give you a fabulous massage but will expand your mind too. Lovely lady and highly recommended.
