The Story:

I called London pussycats and tried to book Alexa unfortunately the receptionist said she was not available but recommended Farah instead and being in the west end it was not far to travel she is based in Cromwell road and i was told she would be ready in 30mins so i asked if she could greet me with just black high heels black hold ups and red lip stick red nails and nothing else she said no problem so I booked..

To this day after many years of punting I still get nervous when i press the girls door buzzer will she look like her pics??

she opened the door with a big smile and welcomed me in she had dressed exactly how i had asked, she is of middle east appearance very confident and put me straight at ease she then offered me some wine unfortunately i had a meeting later in the day so i had to decline, straight into action then...

She offered me a massage which I eagerly accepted but before to long she had my cock in her mouth sucking and licking my balls god this girl had the power of a hover, I was staring at her lovely bum bent over while she was sucking me like I was her favourite Lolly pop, i could not hold on any longer so i asked her to bend over the bed and I slid straight in to her juicy pussy after such great owo i was finding hard to hold it so with a grunt I unloaded deep in her... Quick shower then off to work... while i was drying we were talking and i started to get rock hard again she asked if i need help before i knew it she was on her Knees taking me deep down her throat till i could take no more and emptied what i had left!
