The Story:

Should have left straight away as a girl that I see wasn't working that day, but a Viagra charged penis makes up its own mind. She proceeded to give a very poor excuse for a massage, 3 minutes later she said I should turn over. She grabbed a condom and started to give me the roughest wank that I ever had, even the Viagra was struggling to have any effect. Eventually she got me hard enough to fit a condom and then said, you ok on top.

She doesn't like the clitoris touched, doesn't like to do or receive oral, didn't want too much fuss made of her tits and during the act she was like dead, so I decided to get it over and done with.

After I finished she said help yourself to wipes and some tissues and then she got dressed.

I come to the club couple times a month and see different girls. Never had a problem before. I recommend all the other girls just not Christina, avoid her at all costs.
