The Premises:

It was an outcall to my hotel room. She said she'd be around 25 minutes, but arrived just over an hour later.

The Lady:

Attractive young brunette, probably in her late 20's. She speaks with a Polish accent. She has a nice figure, slightly curvy and womanly. Lovely bottom.

The Story:

I'd been taking a break for a few months, and the business trip to Glasgow provided the perfect opportunity to get rid of some stress. Unfortunately searching at the last minute (because of work constraints) on a Friday evening, is not the best way to arrange a great punt for yourself.

I visually really enjoyed Monica, and with a little bit of coaching she was giving reasonably good OWO. I would have preferred it to be sloppier, but when I asked she claimed not to understand, and I confess that the punt went a bit downhill from there. I had wanted to start off with a bit of sensual massage, but after a couple of minutes of her smearing sticky goo on my back, it was clear that the massage wasn't going to get sensual this century, even when I asked her to give my lower bits a bit of attention. This was the first request that she pretended not to understand.

I ended up cutting my losses, and sending her home after just half an hour, even though I'd paid for the hour and really fancied a longer session. It was just her attitude that did it. If she had been a waitress, it would have been the kind of meal where you leave without leaving a tip.
