The Story:

Impulse is one of the several agencies that seem to operate around the M25 circle (Silk And Lace are probably the best-known of these). If this is typical, they're not up to much. Nickie was perfectly friendly and amenable, but put simply, she can't do this job. "Massage" was a joke, covered BJ uninteresting. In the end I took matters into my own hands and asked to finish myself over her breasts (I'd asked for a busty girl, but she was barely into a B-cup). She okayed it, but in the same breath warned me not to get any in her face. Ho hum. I recently checked the website and it seems to have disappeared, so maybe they've called it a day already!
