The Story:

After the paperwork she said to come in the lounge for a chat which then lasted over half an hour with her giving me her life story, repeating things and giving the impression she was wired. Into the bedroom and she then said she wanted to seduce me, before I was hard she put a condom on with a snap which made the erection situation worse, we then could not do the deed and she encouraged me to wank, she then took and made two phone calls and then would not want me or give any oral let alone the OWO she promised. She then said she would not give any money back, I said that I hope she got some help as she clearly has some mental health issues.
