The Premises:

Probably the oldest location in MK, but mind the parking as a lot of the parking near is run by a company and if you don't have one of their permits a little man sticks a fine on your window and then takes a picture to confirm, you still have to pay to park. (I watched someone get done as I was parking the other side of the path which is the old system)

The Lady:

Porsha looks just as her photos

The Story:

Sorted the money to start some small talk then undress myself with no help or encouragement but told not to suck her nipples as they were sore. On the bed and a light massage which was doing nothing for me, agreed at the same time to turn over and she started to work on the front and get me hard. Not a very good technique, OW, no choice and then cowgirl but basically just bounce up and down and look at the wall. By this time I was losing enthusiasm especially with the bed making more noise than a kid with a drum set at Christmas. Tried missionary but she laid there lifeless again looking at the wall. Went to doggie but all she kept suggesting was Finnish by hand which I at last agreed to but even that was poor and even when I came she still kept rubbing hard which was painful. I know I'm no more than normal size but throughout I got the feeling that I was not touching the sides and was made to feel like it was a production line.

This must be my worst punt at MK since I started with Yoko at City Girls.

I will use MK again but not with Porsha.
