The Premises:

This is a well-known establishment, in the industrial estate of Northampton. Rather discrete and there is no issue in regards to the entry. When you enter, you can gain a distinct odour of smoking, but once upstairs, it is respectable. Maybe, the smokers are outside or adjacent to the entry.

A glass of refreshment was offered. In my last visit, the maid hurried my choice and harassed my deliberations. Possibly due to a Friday evening rush, but this time, her probing and questioning were of a gentler nature. None of the girls were presented though for viewing and I chose Carly on website research and basic details.

For my last two visits, I have been allocated room 2, which is a very small, functional room. The shower is the only intriguing feature of the room, as it's complicated, multi-various controls make it rather perplexing to operate. As always in this abode, finding a suitable place for one's belongings and clothing is always an issue. There was no stool, chair or any other furniture to deposit said items. The music is always of a high nature coming from the stand-alone stereo-recorder.

The Lady:

Carly is of the small persuasion, with a tight, size-8 figure, giving prominence to small but sensual breasts. Her southern intonation is pronounced and she is clearly adept in her profession. She informed me of her copious activities in and around the adult industry, including web-cam performances and independent escorting services. I found her very pleasant, accommodating and although rather chatty, pretentiousness and a clock-watcher were none of her evident characteristics. She seemed happy enough to turn up and cool down the action when necessary and she was upfront about her services and did not take anything as a matter of course. Her soft stroking could not be classed as a classic massage, but it was sensual and intimate enough and did not cause discomfort. I appreciated the way in which she lay down afterwards in the after-glow to cool everything down. That is a feature that not many working-girls partake in and I applaud this feature of her service.

The Story:

Not much more can be added to the description already given. I declined the offer of the additional services, although I can well imagine that they would be pleasurable if one was in the mind for such things.

I went to this encounter with distinct reservations, as my previous punt here was of a very poor nature. Being a forgiving sort of gent, I decided to give the establishment another go, and found the venue and facilities of the room of a low-standard, but the girl herself, of the higher brand. I would say this was due to the girl herself having high expectations and customs and status of the higher-standard. Possibly I was lucky in this regard, and the girl herself was very complementary of the establishment's provision and care. I hold judgment on this, as I have now experienced a varied level of standard of service, but am willing to re-try if ladies of this quality are being proffered. I began this encounter with much trepidation though, for after the initial greeting, I was led to the room, requested to strip and shower, and was then left for nearly 9 minutes, having taken a fast 2-minute shower. This meant, that I was sat around, pondering reflectively for nearly 7 minutes and expecting that my 30-minutes were being unduly ran down. As it turned out though, I did over-stay, which is credit to the girl, for not taking my initial wait into account. Whether this was a deliberate ploy by the establishment, for the apparently deliberate time-wasting, I am not sure, but the girl certainly made up for it afterwards.

Carly herself is of a high-standard and although I would prefer bustier girls, I applaud her efforts, care of attention and physical interaction.

Her light-kissing is also a feature that deserves credit and her willingness to come in close and actually embrace and obtain that body-to-body touch, is a refreshing and welcome element to her service.
