The Premises:

GFE has been described many times before. Very adequate, with excellent facilities. My first visit upstairs to the second floor, where I gratefully found a shower with an agreeable temperature! Nowhere to leave belongings though, no chair, so had to deposit on the floor in the bathroom alcove. Curiously, although there was a shower in the room, there was a little side-entrance, with a locked bathroom with security code.

The Lady:

Lucy is more than aptly described on the site. Her "youth" is evident, and she claims to be 21, which I could believe. Slim sporting an enhanced 34D-cup bust She has lovely soft skin, perfectly manicured nails and the softest of lips to kiss. Her lush long blonde hair has extensions, but is delightful to run your hands through. A true treasure. The unfortunate feature is the Scouse accent!

The Story:

For a start, it has to be stated that Lucy is yet again, one of the most outstanding ladies GFE have on their rotor. Having recently experienced some rather middle-of-the-road encounters there as of late, this was a refreshing and invigorating experience. Lucy's conduct throughout was sublime and provided the type of service that I truly desired. Lately, I have relished the rather haughty Olivia and the slightly eccentric Kendal, but was seeking a rather closer approximation of "GFE", as the aforementioned, "tried" too much, in my opinion. Not unpleasant by any stretch, but both were clearly seeking to push things onwards and almost ensure that an everlasting impression was made. The more quieter type, less assertive lady, was deliciously found in Lucy.

Personally, punting now is not only the sex and the release of tension. A closer, more tender experience is required, where expectations are not raised and the "flow" is not forced. With Lucy, that naturalness was perceived. "Authentic" is possibly the best adjective I can attribute to Lucy. Do not miss-understand me, Lucy's sexual skills were amongst the best I have had for some time. Her excellent oral skills achieved a thrilling CIM completion without too much trouble. Admirably, and without doubt, Lucy's most attractive asset, was her dedication, enthusiasm and sheer industriousness to accomplish the second climax. Her relentless, energetic and sheer persistence with an aging man and flagging ability was incomparable. I rarely go for hour-long sessions now, since my stamina and verve rarely sustain beyond this, but Lucy's skills, specifically her exquisite oral technique, was more than enough to revive and breathe life into some tired bones. For this alone, Lucy should be given the highest plaudits.

However, for me, the chance to simply hold this lady, kiss and fondle, and talk quietly and listen, and “couple” with her was the best element to the encounter. There was no rush, no expectation to switch from one thing to another and certainly no refusal to where the next stage should go. It is slightly ironic to even claim that there was a youthful innocence to Lucy, as this is clearly not the case in her sexual services, as she demonstrated some considerable talent in these areas.

My major niggle with Lucy, and I have to admit, this is being extremely picky in the upmost, but something for her to consider, is when performing oral, she does rest her elbow on your thigh, which can dig in and be slightly uncomfortable. This meant I had to shift and force a change in position at times, but contrary to this, I would put this to her concentration and utter willingness to focus attentively on the task in hand.

Lucy is not an initiator of actions. She is willing to participate, but does need guidance. Although this is not a problem, she has not been in the industry enough to learn how to perform too mechanically and slip out the well-known tricks and traits of the trade. Hence, my reference to her seeming innocence, elusive as this statement is.

In brief, an excellent, outstanding punt, and one I would highly recommend. I can easily see how Lucy can become addictive. I suspect though, from her coherent conversation, that she may leave the profession well before she becomes jaded and disillusioned with the many ungrateful folk out there. In that regard, I would recommend experiencing this wonderful lady before it takes a toll on her. She has aspirations and ambitions, and listening to these was delightfully refreshing. An absolute must.
