The Lady:

Pretty much as described on the website and the photos provide a good impression. British, early 20s, bottle blonde, medium height, slim build, fully shaved, enhanced breasts and a lot of body art.

The Story:

Delilah mentioned at the outset before we'd even got going that she didn't kiss with tongues though FK was specified as one of the services she provided. Her prerogative I know as all services are at the ladies' discretion but this was the first time out of my many visits at this and its associate establishments that FK wasn't on the menu. For the record, poor oral hygiene wouldn't have been the cause - as always I was well hydrated with a mouth full of extra strong mints.

The rest of the service was pretty comprehensive and almost made up for the disappointment. My hands were allowed to roam without restriction and her OWO was especially good - I had to slow her down a few times as a premature conclusion was a distinct possibility. The CIM finish was executed to perfection as she kept her lips closed round me until I had completely finished.

I will recommend with a caveat attached for those for whom FK is a prerequisite though of course she might just have been reluctant to kiss me.
