The Premises:

Annabella's reported on by many others – same flat where I had seen Daisy before. Easy parking, discreet entrance, drinks offered at outset and a booking service next to none. Annabella's points the way to how pleasurable paying for sex could be if it were not kept hidden underground.

The Lady:

Megan is a lovely lady, mid-twenties, tall and tending towards the athletic but with everything in perfect proportion by which I mean a pair of well-shaped natural breasts that are great to hold and play with, a bottom that cries out to be spanked and a lovely long pair of legs. She has long dark hair, a fun personality and a willingness to try out everything I wanted when it came to sex. She came across as submissive and happy to be used however I wanted all of which appealed very much to me. She also made the most of all the time she was with me. Even if we weren't actually fucking she stayed close to me and either played with me or let me play with her. This added a lot to my general enjoyment as so many girls try to extend the non-contact time and don't encourage you to get ready for a second round. Megan was nothing like this and I think she would have been happy to have let me fuck her again if time had allowed.

The Story:

I had chosen Megan on the basis of her photos and previous reports and was pleased to find that she was available for an hour's booking at short notice. I arrived on time and was shown to the room which was very pleasant and inviting – the sort of room in which you cannot help but be happy to relax in the company of a beautiful woman.

Megan arrived in a glamorous set of undies which displayed her assets to great effect and we got the paperwork out of the way prior to getting onto the bed together. Sadly, Megan had had throat problems so very sensibly was not kissing (at least that's what she said – maybe I have bad breath!) but she was happy to undress me, cuddle and let me explore her body prior to getting really down to business.

Stage two began when she lifted her breasts out of her bra and presented them to me to play with. I sucked on her nipples for a while and generally massaged her boobs before reaching behind, unhooking the clasp and removing her bra completely. Now completely free, her breasts were a lovely sight to behold, generously sized and topped by dark nipples. I enjoyed watching them bounce on her chest throughout most of the rest of our encounter.

Megan suggested I get on my back so she could start to wank me and we chatted a bit as she aroused me. It was a sexy chat as I talked about my other visits to Annabellas and the girls I'd enjoyed. She agrees with me that Daisy is great fun. My cock was now hard and ready for some attention so Megan put on a condom and started sucking on it. Normally I prefer OWO but if she had an infection, it was sensible of her to be careful, and, to be fair, even with the condom on her sucking skills were pretty good. She soon had me turned on and enjoying the sexual pleasure she was giving me.

I wanted to make the experience last however so I put her on her back and pulled her knickers off prior to getting my head between her legs so I could start licking her (shaven) pussy. She certainly seemed to enjoy this and held my head in position so that I could make better contact with her lips. At one point, as I came up for air, I asked her how she was feeling. "Turned on" was her breathless response. I don't know how near she was to coming at that point but she then suggested that we have sex. She climbed on top of me in classic cowgirl position and rode me energetically.

I started spanking her bottom as I got nearer to climax and noted that she seemed to enjoy it so as a way of extending my pleasure further I suggested that I spank her some more. She readily agreed and so I moved to the end of the bed and put Megan over my knee. She was nicely placed in front of a mirror so not only could I see her bottom lifted up but if I pulled her head back by her hair, I got a good view of those lovely breasts hanging free as well. My right hand took the opportunity to fondle them as well. I began spanking her cheeks. She likes a light spanking, she told me later, and enjoyed the reddening I applied to her bottom but I was pleased to note that her definition of a light spanking allowed me to apply firmer strokes than other girls have permitted. She also had no objection to the number of strokes – I'm sure each cheek took well over 20 and her bottom was glowing a very healthy red by the time I had finished.

I decided that it was time to finish round one so another condom was applied and I put Megan in missionary position for a firm shafting. Too soon, I knew I was near to coming so I withdrew, removed the condom and sat astride her. I gave myself a few strokes and began spurning over her tits. I wouldn't say I drowned her but I was pleased with the amount of spunk I covered her with.

Megan spent the next few minutes cleaning herself up as I went through the recovery phase but when she came back she was keen to get going again and I was equally as keen to continue playing with her while my energy levels built up again so it was back to pussy licking time as I picked up where I had left off and this time, since I had better control of my own needs, I was able to settle down for a prolonged session of muff-worship which culminated in a noisy and vigorous climax from Megan. I doubt she was faking as she clamped my head between her thighs very strongly.

By now, my own need for sex had resurfaced and Megan was keen to manipulate me into a higher state of arousal by playing with my cock again. I was soon hard enough for a condom to be applied and for me to start fucking again. With Megan on her back I hovered outside the entrance to her vagina for a few seconds before thrusting steadily and firmly inside. A most gratifying sigh escaped from her mouth as I did so. I love these later sessions – I'm more in control and the girl has had her orgasm so I know that I can just take my time and enjoy myself, starting gently and then working up to vigorous thrusts deep into the girl I'm with. Megan took what by my standards was quite a hard pounding as I worked myself up to my second orgasm of the appointment. A few really hard thrusts and I was coming inside her. It felt absolutely magnificent to have this lovely girl under me as the willing recipient of my lust and I kept thrusting until I was sure my balls were empty.

There were only a few moments of the appointment left and I was happy to lie next to Megan and admire the body which had brought me so much pleasure over the previous 50 minutes or so. We chatted a bit and I think she might have been up for another session had time and stamina allowed but I was already running a bit late so I elected to get dressed and on my way. "Oh," she said sounding genuinely disappointed, "you didn't just come here to fuck me did you?" I proudly admitted, that yes, I had, which made her laugh.

Megan is the latest in a very successful run of girls from Annabella's who I have spent time with. Like them, she was friendly and accommodating and made out that she was happy to spend time with me and let me have a good time using her body. I particularly enjoyed the spanking session which was a great bonus in what was already a memorable encounter. I certainly hope to have sex with Megan again sometime and will get over to Annabella's soon. If like me you enjoy sex but have high standards when it comes to choosing who to fuck, you will very much enjoy Megan.
