The Story:

You know how every once in a while you end up with one of those escorts that don't want to talk, make eye contact, and just have the attitude of "let's get this over with". With Renata, it was completely the opposite. Great personality, lots of eye contact throughout the whole session, and was really into it. She was so at ease with everything and able to laugh at herself. Her profile says she is from Lithuania but she is actually Russian. Her English is very good and was never a problem. And she has developed a wicked sense of British sarcastic humour. All of which made the experience a really good one. She even told me her real name, which I won't repeat on here, but it is evidence of just how at ease she was.

She arrived wearing some nice lingerie and we laid on the bed and just talked about all kinds of things for 10 minutes, getting to know each other. I could see how you could easily sit with her at the pub over a few pints and have a great discussion. We massaged each others private parts before shedding our clothes (she left her stockings on) for the main event.

As for the action, I don't want to go into too much detail other than to report that her oral skills are exceptional. I have never been deep throated like that. When I suggested we move on to sex, she said "no, I'm having too much fun at the moment deep throating you". When was the last time you heard that? She let me hold her hair whilst providing oral, and apply gentle pressure to the back of her head.

We eventually did have sex in various positions, and she once again performed oral several times, including on her knees in front of the mirror. Everything that I asked she was happy to oblige and perform.

This was the closest I've come to a true GFE. So if that is what you are after, then Renata is an excellent choice.
