The Story:

I really enjoyed this session mostly because Nicole was friendly and good to talk to. The session was a massage/relief service which began on a massage table, but then switched into another room on a bed because the washing machine in the first room was noisy. The massage, including body to body, was very relaxing. The turn over moment arrived and I was immediately drawn to Nicole's breasts with lovely areolas. She then proceeded to tell me she is having them enhanced and although I understood her reasoning although it seemed a shame to me not being a fan of boob jobs. The relief was delivered as I requested, nice and slow.
