The Premises:

Local hotel in Euston, chain type and very anonymous. Room itself smelled very strongly of cigarette smoke.

The Lady:

Accurate description on her profile, not sure of age but certainly Milf in looks. Not shaved as described in profile though.

The Story:

I am not sure if it was the end of Mel's tour in London or if she'd been working hard but the meeting wasn't up to much because she seemed knackered and not into it. Pretty much laid there on the bed and let me get on with it, eyes closed the whole time and not much verbal. I got the feeling from other reviews that she was a proper dirty cow, granted I got myself up all holes but hardly with any enthusiasm or encouragement from Mel.

OWO was lackluster and I had to suggest moving on as there was a serious chance of losing wood. On a positive note she has a big clit and I enjoyed playing with it and nearly jumped when the dormant Mel let out a gasp after I'd been licking it for a while.

I asked for A-levels and on went the cover, lube and in. Mel kept herself going with a Hitachi wand which sounded like a loud food mixer. After a while I finished and laid back. Mel sort of cleaned me off and put my dick back in her mouth but without much else happening. I asked her to use toys on herself and did my best to try and get hard again. More or less there and on with a cover for a second round where I went for it and drilled her pussy as hard as my flagging member would allow. Helped by watching a porno on the DVD player I managed a second pop. Cleaned up in the shower and went.

A neutral post because I did manage to finish twice but the whole experience would have been better if Mel wasn't tired (or very possibly tipsy). Also the cigarette smell hung around for ages, not very nice. Maybe if Mel was more into it the session could have been a real fuck-fest as she does the lot.
