The Story:

I have been going to ego massage for about 3 years now and have been seeing Poppy fairly regularly for over 2 years, which must tell you something.

She always seems pleased to see me despite my advancing years, (I have been retired for a few years now), and she provides a very good massage, with some gentle touches in all the right places, and she doesn't mind being touched, in fact she almost encourages it. Without going into detail, suffice to say I know what is allowed and what isn't and she knows what I like, and boy does she provide it!

So make an appointment and go and see her, you won't be disappointed. But don't go too often, I already have to book days in advance to get the time I want,

I have only one complaint. I wish she didn't insist on keeping to those damned rules!!
