The Premises:

Discrete location with convenient parking.

Clean and stylish establishment with smooth/relaxing music.

The room was a decent size with a warm show inside.

The Lady:

Personally I don't think Poppy's pictures does her justice; she is a perfect blend of slinderness and curves, that makes her a joy to behold. She is shorter than I expected, which complemented my hight perfectly.

She is clearly Polish, even with her deep brown eyes, yet her accent is soft and her voice is warm.

The Story:

I should make you all aware that I have a weakness for Polish ladies, so my review might be biased, but as I enjoyed experience so much; I felt compelled to sign up and leave this review.

Being that I have not be sexally active for most of my life, I have performance issues about my performance issues, in short I am very nervous from the time I make the call, yet as soon as Poppy walked into the room I felt at ease.

I offered to give her a massage first, and she told me where she liked me to focus on and where not to touch. I really care about a lady's experience so this helped a lot.

Then it was my turn. Poppy found her rhythm quickly and gave a relaxing massage focusing on the areas where I needed it the most. We were chatting comfortably throughout the session, but when she started running her nails gently up and down my back, I lost the power of speech for a moment, so you can imagine what I was like when the body to body commenced (A series of satisfied moans, is all my brain could muster).

It was time to turn over. Well;picture yourself perfectly relaxed, completely naked and gazing at a beautiful woman,with a perfect figure looking back at you whilst touching your body. Throughout the experience I couldn't stop looking at her while I became lost in her touch and the sensation was incredible.

I have purposely not chosen Poppy for my previous visits to Ego Massage, due to my weakness for Polish women, and the other ladies have been exquisite; but I'm truly glad I finally succumbed to temptation.
