The Story:

I've been a regular of Francesca's for a while - and when I get time in London I like to visit. She specialises in tantric massages, and I find her technique and manner well-executed.

This time, I had a shorter session than normal. The sessions usually start with rubbing the upper torso and then onto the back and front.

There is the option of prostate massage at the end, which is one of the highlights, and I have to check my moaning when she does this.

Overall, Francesca is well-spoken, attentive, and a joy to visit.
