The Premises:

This was my first trip to Ego, the person on the phone was very friendly. Normally only do bookings, however she managed to accommodate me as a walk-in...which I have to say was worth the engagement!

The place was very easy to find, clean and modern inside and as you would expect for a place where you would get a massage.

The Lady:

Jess' physical description is as per the details on the Ego Massage website. She is absolutely stunning and as far as I could tell exactly as per photos and lovely natural breasts!

The Story:

Having been my first time at Ego, I wasn't too sure of the process. Was offered a shower before the massage. Then got on to the massage table face down and naked (as was Jess). She then started with a sensual massage with a little bit of oil and then a little more oil and gentle caressing of the gentle bits. About midway thorough and with my member getting hard, she had me turned over.

Great with her hands and that and the oils were going everywhere. Didn't take long before she was standing over my head and put those lovely soft natural breasts all over my face. I put my hands down the side of the table to give her some room and she said I could do some touch and I gentle rubbed her back, bum and legs.

One we get near the end she then concentrated on my member and boy she really knows what she's doing... I will definitely be going back to see Jess and next time it will be longer and I won't have already played with myself earlier in the day ;)
