The Story:

This is my first field report and i have never felt the urge to ever write one before but somehow this experience has made me want to share it with you people out there because i do not want anyone else getting ripped off like i did!!

Basically, i wont go into details but this lady is a total waste of time. I booked her through a mutual friend(not the agency) and had high hopes but sadly was let down by her attitude and total lack of effort once she had recieved the money. This girl may look a million dollars but she sure does not know how to deal with people and i hope that no one else gets conned by her.
