The Premises:

Basement flat, pleasant and clean, small bathroom. Safe area.

The Lady:

Attractive, looked slightly older than website picture (but she had just had a late night), very good figure, olive skin.

The Story:

Slightly off-putting start as she said she had only just woken up from a late Saturday night. Things then improved when we got on the bed. She immediately rolled onto her front and asked me to massage her. I happily did so - caressing a lovely female body is very stimulating for me, and I suspect for many men, as the hands are very sensitive.

She then returned the favour and showed she is experienced at giving arousing massage, with particular attention to the back of my balls and the anal area.

She then rolled the rubber on, sucking as she did so. I did not ask for BBBJ as I always think the risks are too high. Her oral technique was perhaps a little on the firm side for my liking, but others might disagree.

We then moved to mish sex, which was highly pleasurable for me (some fake moaning from her as she clearly was not in the mood for sexual arousal).

I had to leave before the hour was over (my situation not hers).

She was quite chatty about her life but I felt it was something of a "patter". She is clearly very professional and I did not quite experience the personal warmth to enable me to click with her on a personal level.

I will not be seeing her again as she is not quite my type of personality (and also one of my reasons for punting is variety). However, she will has a sexy appearance, knows her job and can certainly be recommended. I suggest you avoid Sundays as I think she likes to stay out late on Saturdays.

Finedate made the arrangements efficiently and pleasantly.
