The Lady:

Anna is your archetypal girl next door, the one you fancied at school but never asked out, your mates girlfriend you always had a crush on. She's 30 years old & has lovely deep brown eyes that just suck you in. She is slim about 5'4" and would not be out of place where ever you chose to meet her. She is intelligent and easy to talk to and she has a great sense of humour.

The Story:

We met in a Manchester pub, I was late, traffic was it's usual chaos so thankfully she was late too. We had a couple of drinks together, I was as nervous as hell as it was my first time into the breach so to speak but Anna soon put me at ease. It was like meeting an old friend from my school days, we just chatted and it seemed so normal that my nervousness soon went, the beer probably helped too. Then we moved on to the Hotel. I felt awkward again as we lay on the bed next to each other then she just kissed me and her passion took my breath away, Anna could kiss for Britain. A few fumbblings later and there we were naked.

It seems somehow not right to put what we did together here in detail, suffice to say that it included all I had ever wished for. Time just ran away and it was soon well past the time I had booked but there was no rushing at all. We could have just laid there all night and slept, well mostly slept, but I had to get back to work. We left arm in arm & parted with a kiss in the street. I am already looking forward to seeing her again as soon as funds allow. Anna does OWO (extra) & doesn't do A, but I didn't want that anyway so I wasn't bothered. She is a lovely woman & a pleasure to be with. Treat her with respect guys.
