The Premises:

my place

The Lady:

long dark hair, 5'0 not unattractive but no stunner, bit on the skinny side.

The Story:

initial contact with agency was good, amelie arrived 15 minutes late claiming she was delayed by road works, but later on let it slip she had a busy day with clients. (little tip here girls not a good idea to let a client know you have been had 3 or 4 times previously that day) offered her a drink which she declined, we chatted for about half an hour mostly about herself, she then suggested we go into the bedroom, asked if was ok to use the bathroom and promptly disappeared for a full 15 minutes. (yawn) she then entered the bedroom in stockings and bra and suggested the usual massage which lasted for about 5 minutes, I then tried to kiss her but she turned her face away.

decided to move down to her breasts asked if she would mind removing her bra which she did reluctantly then made it difficult by turning on her side, began to wonder what I was paying for. I moved down for some oral which I quite enjoyed until after a few minutes the fake orgasm arrived. she then returned the favour which was ok but I have had much better.

on with the condom and tried doggy at first but it was to awkward as she's so short, managed to do the deed in the missionary position but only thanks to a horny female work colleague and my imagination.

pushed off immediately and found myself clock watching, as there was still 30 minutes to go while she droned on about being the the best girl on the agencies books.

well I have been punting for a good 6 years and this is the first time I have felt the need to put pen to paper so to speak, and seen at least 3 other girls from night/day and they have been great, so I suppose I was due a bad-un, but still very disappointing.

Service Provider's Rebuttal

The establishment writes:

Amelie did not take any bookings for the evening of the 15th May. I believe this report to have been filed by an ex client of hers, who is also sending malicious feedback to the agency website. I have traced the IP address of the feedback report sent to the agency with the IP address of emails sent to 'Amelie'. The name on the feedback form is 'James', I believe 'James' and 'Jimmy123' to be the same person. Unfortunately, the client in question, who was a long term client, had formed an unhealthy and unrequited relationship with the lady. As an agency, we advised the lady have no further contact with the client about 6 weeks ago.
