The Premises:

The place was clean enough.

The location was easy to reach, close to the tube station. Seems to be a "red-light" street, but few people pass.

The bathroom is ok; the shower worked very well, but the water didn't flush.

The Lady:

The lady is plainly different from the pictures in the site, with curly hair and several kilograms more.

Actually the pictures are undoubtedly fake: this is evident because the lady has a visible mole on the left arm, which there is not present in the pictures; so these has been either very heavily photoshopped (mole and weight) or (as I think) she is simply a different lady.

If you rate the pictures as a beautiful lady, expect instead a very average one.

The Story:

I have to split this report in positive and negative sides.

The positive side: sexually speaking, she has been a great experience.

She did very PSE BJs; but she is also very very warm and we had lots of kissing, leading to a very nice GFE experience.

After the first round, I had a shower and then she very actively went for a second round.

The negative side: the agency is plainly cheating for the reasons explained in the physical description.

When I saw her, I asked her a couple of time if she really was the one on the site, as I was very dubious.

To round up, the experience is great for the sexual side.

But I choosed the lady (and payed) also for the physical aspect, which I've been concretely tricked for.

For this reason I don't recommend the girl, as far as you're concerned with the physical aspect.

If this is not a concern for you instead, I recommend her, she's a great experience.
