The Story:

On her website, Lynn gives unusual prominence to her domination service, and that is what I went for. In addition to her escorting skills, she is indeed a well-equipped and experienced mistress: next to the bedroom is a schoolroom, and next to that a simple but effective dungeon. It would benefit from a more elaborate whipping bench, but otherwise all was fine. She has plenty of CP instruments and knows how to use them: with grace, elegance, and severity.

Lynn is lovely. She is intelligent, articulate, and quick witted, with an affectionate and caring personality. Since I wanted the corporal punishment to be delivered in a friendly atmosphere, she was an ideal choice. We started and finished with an over the knee spanking. She sat on the side of the bed and drew me across her stockinged lap, whence I had an agreeable view of her very shapely calves. Then she spanked, and spanked, and spanked. In between the two OTK sessions, I bent over the desk for punishment with a huge variety of instruments, culminating in what must be one of the longest canings I have ever had. She caned me every bit as hard as I wanted, but managed to go on and on without cutting me or breaking the skin. A real virtuoso performance. I lost count, but must have had more than three hundred strokes of the cane alone, in addition to everything that had gone before. Wonderful.

I booked 90 minutes, but the preliminary discussion and final farewells were in addition to the time I had paid for, which was entirely devoted to CP. All in all, I was with her for nearly two hours. A blissful encounter, which I remember very fondly.
