The Story:

Arrived at the hotel nice and early, with the worst toothache I've ever had in my life, and was doubting if I should go ahead or not.

I'd read so many reports on her that I had to and after a drink in the bar, made my way to her room, only to find her locked out of her room. It was the hotels fault with their lock, so we went downstairs while they tried to fix the problem, and we got to know each other in the bar. Not ideal, and pretty frustrating when your sitting opposite the pretiest little thing I'd seen all day, with a bloody toothache. At last, we made it into the room half hour later than planned, and I jumped into the shower while she 'prepared' herself. Came out of the shower and the fun began, but I started to think I shouldn't be here, coz I was in agony. Estelle did everything she could to make me feel better, and she performed the main thing I wanted ( rimming) superbly, and offered everything else that I was keen to experience, but I had to give in, and promised that I would be back in the near future. I can't recommend Estelle highly enough because she knew that I had an issue, and along with the lock on the door, the whole thing was handled so well.
