The Story:

When she opened the door I realised instantly that I had seen this girl before (maybe twice) when she worked out of a flat on Praed Street Paddington, and immediately thought 'This is going to be good'. The last time I met her I had a great GFE, she was engaging and willing, receptive to my attention etc. Alas this was not the case this time. I took a shower and entered the bedroom. I had requested a dress, stockings etc (after trying them on lol..) seriously and she was dressed accordingly. Started gentle kissing/touching and all seemed fine, except for the taste of stale tobacco. Alas then it went downhill from here as she seemed to be a little disinterested, she made no advances to give OWO and I had to basically get in a position to stick it in which was standing on the bed whilst she sat upright. I then decided on a strategy to get her excited first by giving sustained attention between her legs as I remembered last time she really enjoyed it. This I did for some 10-15 mins until she appeared to cum.

Then it was time for the condom, tried missionary first and this is where it all went wrong. She just lay there with her eyes closed and I am sure she was thinking of Estonia!!, no participation at all. So I decided after 5 mins that it was time to make the best of the situation and cum ASAP.

This girl used to be great but I just felt she has had enough of the job as a WG, happy to take the money but give a lack lustre performance. Ironically I had been searching for her following our last meeting but as her pictures have changed I did not recognise her on the website, therefore this was a huge disappointment. In the end it all comes down to attitude, an average looking girl with great attitude is 10 times sexier than a bombshell that's apathetic, and Alexa was the latter. She said she had been home for a few months, maybe that was the catalyst for the change in demeanour, who knows but there are much better girls out there at the moment.

I will recommend her only on the basis that when she is on form she is really very good and concede that I caught her on a bad day. I think that is called giving the benefit of doubt.
