The Story:

At last some quality returns to Brandon. I had exchanged emails and a phone call with Kelly before I arrived and she spent time going through just what I wanted from our time together. She appreciated the small gift I had brought her - I think if you want to experience the best a lady has to offer then you have to treat her like a lady.

Once in the room we indulged in several of the more unusual services she offers and she accommodated my every wish. She was responsive, appreciative of my attentions and attended to my needs exceptionally well, helping to time the finale just right. I can't wait to go back and carry on where we left off - Thank you Kelly
