The Story:

The "Jenny" saga continues. In my FR 102732 I reported on a woman using the profile "Only Jenny 19" who was neither 19 nor the gorgeous looking girl in the photos. However, I recently saw two very positive reviews of Jenny 19 on another site, both coming from established punters. Also, I noticed that the telephone number had changed and the location was different (now Paddington rather than St Johns Wood). Maybe, I thought, the woman I visited had stolen the photographs and the girl now advertising was the real Jenny 19. The photographs show a truly stunning girl and so I reckoned it was worth paying another visit to find out the truth. Sadly the news is not good. The woman I saw ("Jenny 2" ?) was not the same woman as last time (hence this review). However, she is still nothing like the Jenny in the photos. She is at least 10 to 15 years older, with a thicker body, plainer face and generally unattractive. I find the whole thing baffling. Why put up dozens of photographs of a pretty young girl when it is obvious to even a half blind punter that the ropey old tart who opens the door is not (or is no longer) the same person. But even more baffling, how did she manage to get two positive (glowing) reviews from seemingly genuine reviewers? Anyway, the conclusion is - there is no such person as the lovely Jenny 19. It is just various woman using the photos for a bait and switch operation. Emphatically to be avoided.
