The Lady:

Grace is lovely- the photos on her web site are accurate and representative.

She claimed to be "not that posh", but to my ears she has a very sexy southern English accent.

I found Grace to be very engaging and fascinating - both during my time with her and in her emails whilst arranging the booking.

I very much look forward to finding out more about her,

The Story:

Limited time meant I could only see Grace for half an hour- I wish in hindsight I had arranged to stay longer.

After a quick shower and an even quicker chat Grace initiated what turned out to be a very passionate half hour.

Grace was both compliant and assertive at the appropriate moments and my time with her felt very natural.

As this was my first visit with Grace we did not get up to anything too unusual but she does allude to being very open minded on her website.

I look forward to trying out something more ambitious when I see her again. I don't doubt she would be most accommodating.
