The Lady:

Well described in her Web pages. The enigmatic expression in her photos is in reality a permanent captivating smile.

The Story:

Dianna arrived on time looking lovely in an attractive dress and short jacket. She immediately put me at ease with her friendly manner and smile.

We chatted for a while and then adjourned to a restaurant for dinner. Throughout dinner she gave me her undivided attention and made me feel the only person in the restaurant - she was for me. I responded to her smile by smiling broadly throughout the evening, with good reason. On the way back we both expressed, spontaneously, our pleasure in each others company.

Back at base I lit some candles and rather clumsily made Dianna a cup of her favourite tea as we chatted away. Then, as the mood became more intimate, we dispensed with clothes and there followed a night of pure magic. Dianna kisses like an Angel and has a touch that more than matches - slow, light, sensuous and above all ubiquitous. I lay back (part of the time) with England far from my thoughts. I tried, however inadequately, to return the compliments in equal measure. Details of our journey through the Magic Kingdom must remain our secret.

Imagine my delight in the morning to awake with Dianna nestling in my arms and to be revisited by the Angel before her leasurely departure.

Dianna is a gem, the ultimate 'Girlfriend Experience'. I wish her luck, please treat her well.

On my return home I received an Email from Dianna thanking me for the evening and saying how much she had enjoyed it. I returned the compliment, arranging our next date at the same time.
