The Premises:

Street off main road near Old Street Underground and Rail Station. Small, reasonably clean flat. Central London location, so usual restrictions one would expect to find. Not sure how safe it would be at night as I went during the day.

The Lady:

Smaller and slimmer than she looks on her profile picture. Her face is hidden on her profile and I'm afraid that I was disappointed when I saw her face. Blonde, quite large natural breasts and in reasonable shape. Looks to be in her late twenties.

The Story:

I had visited Valentina the week before (Punternet review number 115134 for those who want a description of an earlier visit; she's changed her number to 07842168124 since) and given how much I enjoy visiting her, maybe this visit was always going to disappoint, but it was a rather cold experience. It did not help that she did not provide OWO despite stating on her profile that she does. Having not ejaculated for a few days, I was able to come twice within the hour, but I left feeling that I would rather have masturbated than visited this lady. We had sex in the usual positions which came with a lousy massage that was rather more rubbing my back with oil than a stimulating massage. I showered and could not wait to leave.
