The Premises:

Smart recent buiuld flat in a very suitable area, lots of coming ang going. I was shown into a nice well decorated bedroom. Wasn't offered a shower but I didn't really need one. Porn playing on the TV, just in case I needed it to know what to do, lol

The Lady:

Lexi was tall enough in heels to eyeball me as we kissed. Very long legs as a result, big boobs, much as advertised. Looked about 35 since she advertises 42 that is more than satisfactory.

Lexi was very down to earth, friendly, with lots of humorous banter - made for a very enjoyable meet. She apologised for the lack of stockings as it was too hot for them. Otherwise attired in high heels and a short black dress, looked very sexy. I think she could be a very dirty talker but we didn't go down that route.

The Story:

I had explained to Lexi that I had to use a pump to get an erection. She was quite curious about this but co-operated beautifully. We started with some very nice french kissing and general petting and stroking on the bed, followed by me working down via the nips to her pussy that was quite ready for action. Couldn't quite get her to cum by oral so took the short break required to get the pump into action, with Lexi taking a very close interest and sucking my balls while I pumped. When I was ready she took me deep in her mouth with excellent oral both with and without the rubber which she applied with her mouth. I suggested sex and positioned her on her knees on the end of the bed for doggy action, got in easily due to all the lubrication and was able to maintain the position long enough to get her to cum twice as far as I could tell. Given the limitations that I have I was very happy about this, so after a bit of messing with the pump to get me properly hard again I had a go with her on top, whihc didn't really work, and after more oral and a bit more pumping-up I put her back into doggy and rode her to a shared climax that was extremely pleasurable for me. I could even feel some fluid release which was a surprise as I have no prostate, but when I pulled out there it was in the condom. Later after winding down and I was soft enough, there was quite a jet of fluid came out when I pulled the control ring off.

A more than satisfactory punt with a friendly and co-operative lady. A bit of a milestone for me on my recovery.

Thanks very much Lexi
