The Story:

Working in Central MK the parlours have in the past eluded my attention for some reason, but back in the UK for a few days and had time

I had done no research apart from seeing who was available on the day, and had a flight that evening from Gatwick. I have previously seen petra, Called up and appointment was taken efficiently at a good time for me.

Greeted by the maid then told to wait in the room, Ameera was running late no problem, offered water. She arrived wearing a short cocktail dress which came off in seconds, I do like to undress each other but this is the parlour way. We had a chat she was bubbly but not sure if she was listening to me. She asked what i want to do, so we had foreplay I stroked and licked her slim body, I nibbled her ears and kissed her neck and face, she indicated no lip kissing :(.

Then I asked for some oral and she asked if there was time...I knew she was looking at the clock but I ignored it, we had barely got started. She used a condom for this I didnt mind really but I was not feeling much. So she used lube and started having sex she was flexible and accommodating with 2 positions, but then she said we have 5 minutes left - given the late start it was actually 10+ but she still expected to finish on the hour. Off came the condom and I finished myself (no cob either - would have been nice).

I was not impressed with her and what she offered to me, I think now she did not give me a sight or play of her pussy - why? its also not fair of the agency to treat her like this and make her see guy to guy if she cant handle it or does not want to do no services.
