The Story:

I have thought about this review for a while. Olivia was a very nice lady and I did enjoy my time with her. However, she admitted that her profile was written by somebody else and that her list of likes were not accurate. If I had known beforehand what services were available I may not have made an appointment. She doesn't do a-levels, OWO or CIM. Not a problem but for the fact that she advertises these as likes. She also charges extra for FK. Again, that came as a surprise. She was very honest and told me that she came up with excuses for not providing these services rather than simply correcting her profile. As I say, if she listed her likes properly she would still get bookings because she is a very attractive woman who provides a good experience. I was also a little surprised when a male opened the door to the apartment. She had not warned me that her driver would be in the apartment during the booking. Would have been good to know. Otherwise good communication.

It is a shame because if her profile was accurate one could not have any complaints.
