The Premises:

Location was in the centre of town close to the Scottish Parliament. Parking is controlled so it is best to park further away and walk to the location. The flat was a renovated council flat, decorated in the usual Ikea style. The interior was clean and tidy. Reasonably close to other amenities should you want to seek further entertainments elsewhere.

The Lady:

Jessica is an above average attractive lady in her late 20's. Her photos appear to be accurate though she does appear to have put on weight around the stomach. She is facially very pleasing and has a nice body. Breasts are a nice size and she has peachy bum. Her presentation overall was quite good with sexy boots and stockings. Make up was above average. Overall a decent presentation. Her personality was friendly but did seem a bit artificial.

8/10 for physical appearance.

6/10 for personality.

The Story:

I booked through AW and turned up on time for the appointment at 15:00 hours. There was some initial problems when I called prior to my arrival as Jessica said she didn't like well endowed men and I had made that claim when I tried to make a booking once before. I found all this a bit strange and after a bit of discussion on the phone she decided to go ahead with the booking.

Once inside I got a little lecture from Jessica about booking procedures even though she failed to confirm the booking through the AW booking system which means you can't leave feedback. I think that kind of put the chill on the session that followed because it was all very mechanical, methodical and lacking excitement. It was like a visit to the district nurse.

Although I had requested an hour Jessica then give me a run down of the options. In retrospect I should have just taken the half hour and saved £30 because it was all done in that time largely thanks to her robotic approach to sex. Jessica does point out that she is moving on to another location on her AW profile so it could be she's not putting as much effort into it and her avoidance of using the AW booking system would indicate she wishes to avoid negative feedback. That's purely speculative on my part it could be someone else will have a better experience and it also comes down to what the individual expects from an Escort. Personally I expect something better than what I experienced.

In terms of service, she started with a decent back massage and then oral covered putting on the condom with her mouth, penetration followed in about 4 different positions. She made all the running, any attempt by me to do what I wanted to do was resisted, when I asked for doggy she failed to get into a proper doggy position. While sex was taking place she declared that this would be the last position. This was at the 25 minute mark. It was all a bit frustrating and lacking in satisfaction. She eventually made me climax by hand. Everything was completed in about 30 minutes despite booking her for an hour. So I sat around talking to her even though she was itching to push me out the door. She then told me that she doesn't like to hurry people out the door after 30 minutes when they've paid for the full hour. Eventually I left at the 45 minute mark because the conversation was tepid.

6/10 for performance (I'm being generous)
