The Premises:

We met at Elizabeth's dedicated flat in a safe area. I took a bus and walked the last part when the bus terminated early.

I enjoyed her shower at the end of the booking, needing to remove substantial amounts of lubricant and cum.

The Lady:

Elizabeth is about 5ft 6ins tall and a natural redhead. I had already met her as half of a duo with MKHelen and was very keen to meet her again. She greeted me wearing one of her favoured latex dresses, heels and stockings.

Her gallery does not do her complete credit as one of the most naturally knockout ladies I have ever met.

The Story:

Before meeting we exchanged mails in which I presented Elizabeth with a list of possibilities from her repertoire which I felt that I could take: anal play, cock training, nipple torture, sounds, electrics and CBT.

Having turned down her offer of wine in favour of tap-water, I soon found myself on her bed, hooded and secured in a collar to wrist bar while Elizabeth went to work on me. During this element I have to guess exactly which implements were used upon me but they certainly included nipple clamps + weights, pin-wheels, pegs upon the soft tissues on my legs and arms, anal toys, a violet wand and electric gadgets on my cock. Since it was a warm day, the ice cubes which were frequently rubbed over various parts of me were quite a welcome relief from the other sensations. Each new event was preceded by one of Elizabeth's giggles of anticipation. Throughout I was under instruction that I was not permitted to cum until I received permission, so I was also concentrating hard upon that aspect.

Mistress was kind enough to release me from the hood for the rest of my time, which saved me from the paradox of contemplating that I had so wanted to see her again and could not for that time.

Sounds are one of Elizabeth's favourites and she gradually worked her way through quite a selection of her set. I found this one of the most erotic experiences of my life. Mistress gently massaged my cock with the sounds inserted, alternately spitting on it to provide lubrication and blowing gently on it to help me to maintain control. Of course, there was a flip side to the pleasure when I enjoyed a sound wired with electricity but rather less the several pegs which were then clipped onto the crown of my cock. I was entertained by a dazzling smile, frequent giggles as some pain was in the offing and by watching the sheer delicacy of the precision which Mistress used in inserting and removing the sounds.

Mistress then spent some time carefully widening my anus with her fingers before removing the dress, fitting a mercifully manageable strapon and giving me quite a vigorous shagging, enhanced by the view of Mistress in the huge mirror which she had thoughtfully drawn alongside the bed. I was still under strict orders for self-control, made all the more difficult by being artfully stroked as I was being shagged. The final phase was being situated on my back on the bed while Mistress teasingly built me up to the point where I had to beg to be allowed to cum and eventually granting me permission.

After a short bathroom break I was back in the bedroom and able to benefit from some of the treats which I was granted as a reward for the several occasions where I had impressed Elizabeth with my ability to take what she had previously inflicted upon me.

My main point in making this review so rambling is to emphasize that, if one is inclined to seek a Mistress, then it makes good sense to choose one who is stunning to look at, expert in what she does and can be totally trusted to know your limits rather better than you might yourself, thereby remaining within the boundaries of what you may tolerate.
