The Premises:

Long-established premises just off South End in Croydon's restaurant quarter at which a couple of South American girls are usually working. The entrance is very discrete. Public transport access by bus is excellent although there is a charge for on-street parking. The premises is clean and comfortable. Shower facilities are available although the shower head was missing from the shower when I visited.

The Lady:

As per her photos, Lola is an attractive blonde in her mid thirties who comes from Colombia. She is of average height, size 10-12 with natural DD breasts. She speaks fairly good English, has an outgoing and bubbly personality and is eager to please. A genuine MILF.

The Story:

Past visits to this premises have been somewhat hit-and-miss in terms of punting quality. Fortunately Lola was a hit rather than a miss. After welcoming me with a big kiss and completing the financial formalities, we both undressed quickly with lots of caressing and kissing. The kissing was on the lips but not French. She enjoyed having her breasts kissed and her nipples played with and I was happy to oblige.

Lola was also happy for me to finger her pussy and play with her clit which I did before we started oral both ways. She clearly enjoyed having her pussy licked and managed to slip the condom on me whilst giving me oral without me even noticing. After that we were both gagging for it and moved on to sex in the missionary and cowgirl positions before climaxing doggy style. After that, I had a shower to freshen up although showering was not easy as the shower head was missing.

The girls who work here only tend to stay for a week or two before moving on so, whilst I would be happy to see Lola again and would certainly recommend her, I doubt that our paths will cross again.
