The Premises:

Long-established and well-known premises in a flat over a shop a few minutes walk from Waddon railway station. Finding a parking space is challenging. The entrance is via a gate and down an alleyway and not at all discrete but once inside the place is clean and comfortable but nothing special. No shower facilities or refreshments were offered.

The Lady:

Samantha is a petite 23 year old blonde babe from Finland with B-cup breasts. She is friendly and chatty (she speaks fluent English) as well as being naturally attractive and has been working at Affinity for three weeks. She is studying at university so only works on Fridays. I did get the impression that she is new to escorting.

The Story:

Affinity was my third choice for some Friday fun in my lunch break as the girls at my first two establishments of choice were busy when I called to make a booking at short notice. The experience got off to a rather embarrassing start as there were two local workers chatting when I approached the entrance gate and it was clear from the expression on their faces that they knew exactly what I was up to when I opened the gate and went in to the alleyway leading to the premises.

The cheerful maid opened the door and showed me straight to the bedroom and Samantha entered a few moments later. In completing the financial formalities she said that OWO was an extra £20 so I declined that. Once Samantha returned from giving the money to the maid, we both undressed quickly with lots of caressing and kissing on the lips although Samantha said that she doesn't do French kissing. She did a good job caressing my manhood and was happy for me to caress and lick between her legs as we lay on the bed together. Then the condom went on and she gave me oral although it was a little disappointing that she didn't do it for longer before asking me which position I wanted to have sex in.

I opted for cowgirl and thoroughly enjoyed the view and experience as Samantha rode me. After that we moved on to deep-stick which got her breathing very heavily. By now I was now starting to sweat quite heavily on what was a very warm day so Samantha removed the condom and finished me off by hand as I lay on my back on the bed. Having come over my stomach and dripping in sweat, it was very inconvenient to be told that I wasn't able to use the shower so we kissed goodbye, the maid let me out and I went home to freshen up before returning to work.

The calibre of the girls at Affinity is very variable as past reviews of this establishment show and the slight premium that is charged there compared to other premises around Croydon and neighbouring areas is not really justified. However, Samantha is a gem and certainly worth making the effort to get to know - just don't expect to be able to take a shower during any visit.
