The Lady:

Blair is incredibly beautiful, the photos on here and her website are definitely of her. I didn't ask her age on the night I didn't really think to but i'd definitely say early to mid 20s is correct (24 stated on her site). She has perfect curves, a wonderful smile and amazing dark eyes.

The Story:

I had never contacted an escort before but I decided on my visit to London that I would try and find someone to spend some time with one night during my trip. I came across Blair's website and almost immediately I was drawn to her. I contacted her through her website, giving her some details about myself and what kind of things I might like to do if we were to meet. I received an email back a few hours later, she asked for some further information about me and confirmed she would like to meet me. At first I had requested a two hour meeting but a couple of hours before we were due to meet I contacted her and asked if she had time for an extra hour, this was no problem.

She sent me a text when she was 5 minutes away from my hotel and she arrived perfectly on time looking incredible. I was so nervous but after half an hour or so of just chatting and getting to know one another I felt a lot better. She then got changed into an outfit I requested and we moved on to the next part of the evening.

Due to my lack of experience and confidence, Blair was more than happy to take control of the sexual activities throughout the next couple of hours. She does have a list of more hardcore domination activities on her site but we had a more sensual experience together. She undressed me and then suggested a massage to start off, she knew just where to touch and kiss and took her time to try and help me relax further.

When it came to the sex itself she immediately got condoms out of her bag and put one on me straight away, she then asked if id like to try a certain position. We had another chat after we'd finished and then took a shower together, she took me back into the bedroom where she gave me another unbelievable BJ and by this time I even felt confident enough to ask her for a prostate massage to finish and she was only too happy to oblige.

It was an incredible experience for me and she seemed to enjoy my company, she is such a nice person and I am hoping to be back in London in the near future when i'm very much looking forward to possibly taking her out to dinner as she is fantastic company.
