The Premises:

Ground floor flat in Pimlico area, best reached from Waterloo by taking a train to Vauxhall, and walking over the bridge. Inside there is only artificial lighting, which I don't really like. As with other HoD locations, the room was in good shape and clean and tidy, but rather small and not exactly inspiring. The bathroom was also spick and span, well appointed but rather compact. On my last visit to this location I was in another room, which had an on-suite and was (slightly) larger.

The Lady:

Michelle's features are blurred on the website, but she is very attractive. She also has a very nice body. I think she's a little above average in height, and has lovely legs, a generous but firm bum and a slim waist. According to the web site her boobs are C cup, which I think is somewhat of an exaggeration but they well shaped and firm.

Michelle's looks and figure are very nice, but it is her personality and attitude which really blew me away, she was very friendly and put me at my ease at once, but once we got to playing she proved very eager and adventurous and encouraged me to push my limits and try new things. She combines all the best of a GFE and PSE in one.

Michelle is apparently Italian, but her English is excellent.

The Story:

What Happened:

If you like it short and sweet:

I do find the HoD locations rather insipid however the girls are anything but! And I have to say Michelle is possibly the best I've yet seen. She looks great, has a fantastic attitude, and she is awesomely skilled in the bedroom.

If you haven't been to HoD I'd certainly recommend a visit, and in particular I'd highly recommend a visit to Michelle.

And if you prefer it long and highly spiced:

I'd become aware of Michelle as being my kind of girl when making plans for my visit to MK in September. I tried to book her then, but unfortunately I'd given too little notice to secure an appointment when I wanted. At the time she didn't do sessions at HoD but a month or so back, I saw she was now coming down to London, and finding a day when I'd be in town, last week, tried once more to set up a meet. Again I applied too late to get an acceptable time - though I had a very nice time with another lady instead. This time it was third time lucky, making my booking a day ahead I was able to see her.

Our meeting was at the HoD establishment near Vauxhall. On arrival one felt a bit exposed because decorators were at work at the flats. The front door to the block was open, but I rang the bell anyway before stepping across the hall to the entrance of the flat that is practically opposite it. I was admitted by the 'maid' and shown through to the bedroom. She asked me what I'd like to drink (orange juice), and departed promising Michelle would join me shortly.

I got off my shoes and socks and then my drink and Michelle appeared in quick succession. She was dressed in a bra and briefs, which were functional rather than sexy, but showed off her figure nicely. Of course she also had on the virtually obligatory very high heels.

Michelle greeted me in friendly and confident manner, which is generally a good sign. I'm invariably nervous when seeing a girl for the first time and it doesn't help if we are both nervous. Then she stepped closer, and we were kissing, her tongue fencing with mine. A very good sign!

"What would you like to do?" she asked me. I don't usually get asked this and as usual I felt a bit awkward coming up with a plan, but Michelle seemed keen enough when I told her I'd like her to suck my cock and make me come, then that after a little down time I'd like to fuck her.

She suggested we'd better get our clothes off. I unclipped her bra and she helped me off with my shirt. Michelle's boobs were nice though rather smaller than I'd been led to expect and I found her body very arousing. My trousers came down, followed by my trunks and her briefs.

Michelle got on her knees taking my cock in hand, and then putting it in her mouth. Usually by this point I am already pretty stiff but nothing much seemed to be happening, which was a tad worrying. However when I gave myself a bit of a wank, my cock started to swell up. Then Michelle took over and I was soon rock hard.

One of Michelle's skills that frequently features in her reviews is genuine deep throat. Well soon she was taking me very deep indeed, then pulling way before pushing my shaft into her mouth until her nose was almost touching my belly. To get right down to the hilt of my cock though, Michelle said we'd need to change position. Getting up, she laid herself on her back across the bed, her head hanging over the edge. I was instructed to kneel on the floor and push my cock deep into her mouth. Wow! And if this wasn't enough, in an attempt to give Michelle some fun, I reached up to stroke her pussy and soon found I had a finger pushed up her tight quim! Awesome!

After a bit more throat fucking, I moved up onto the bed, Michelle knelt beside me and while I continued to gently finger fuck her she went to town on my cock, pausing only occasionally to give my balls a good licking. It was all too much. With her head bobbing eagerly up and down with my cock almost balls deep in her mouth, I could hold back no longer and came in Michelle's mouth giving a great groan as my spunk squirted out. She held my throbbing shaft up against her tonsils for several seconds, until its twitching slowed and my body stopped shuddering. Then she pulled away and with a grin produced some wet wipes before skipping out to the bathroom for a spit and rinse.

I finished cleaning up and Michelle soon returned. We kissed and cuddled. Normally I would have taken a little break at this point, but Michelle seemed to want to carry on where we had left off. Soon we were in 69. Feeling I was not quite ready to spring back to life yet, I got her to straddle my face to indulge in some pussy licking. Michelle seemed to enjoy this. After a bit I gave myself a bit of a wank and found myself swelling up. Michelle noticed this, and was soon sucking eagerly on my cock positioning herself so I could push a finger up her snatch once again. It seemed no time at all before I was ready to be pushing something else up her snatch instead. Michelle produced a condom and soon I was properly attired for sex.

Michelle asked what position. I said I hoped we could try them all. She grinned seeming happy to do just that. We started with her on top. This was great fun, Michelle pulling up her feet so she was squatting down on my cock. She bounced up and down with gusto and apparently a great deal of enjoyment. After a bit I encouraged her to tell me her favourite position. She said it was a bit difficult to describe - so I got her to demonstrate - far better than describing it after all.

She got me to sit up then turned around so she had her back to me. Then on her hands and knees she pushed back her lovely bum and fed my dick back up inside her. I suppose you could call it halfway between doggy and reverse cowgirl. Fun and interesting, and I enjoyed myself like this for a while with Michelle doing most of the work, sliding herself up and down the length my cock. The sight of her glorious bum and my cock disappearing in and out of her pussy was pretty spectacular, but in truth I like to be in the driving seat, so after a bit I suggested a change and we moved into a more conventional position with me on top and Michelle's legs hooked up on my shoulders as I drove deep into her snug pussy as I pounded her into the mattress.

Michelle asked if there were any more positions I wanted to try. Yes several, but since she seemed up for it I decided to try out one I've seen in several porn movies but have very rarely got around to trying myself and then with mixed results. On the SexInfo101 site it's called the 'piledriver'. The lady does a shoulder stand and then pulls her legs down around by her head, while the man straddles her to spear her pussy. You can in principle do this in the middle of the bed, but its often done with the furniture providing some support and this seemed a safer option.

Michelle got herself in position at the foot of the bed, shoulders on the floor, back up against the bed, and legs pulled down so her bum was pointing straight up at the ceiling. It was an amazing sight! However as noted above the bedroom was not exactly spacious. The gap between the foot of the bed and the fitted wardrobe was probably no more than three feet. Michelle had squeezed herself in but was obliged to place her feet against the wardrobe rather than the floor. I now discovered one of the issues with this position, which is that to achieve penetration one has to lean forwards somewhat. The problem was that Michelle's pussy was oriented at rather more than right angles to the cock I was trying to push into it. I could have managed if I could have lent further forwards, but this was impossible because the wardrobe was in the way.

Michelle suggested the obvious solution - turn around. With me facing the other way (the 'reverse piledriver' position) not only was the angle between cock and pussy less, but I could also lean right over her. So in I slid and wow! What fun! It felt as good as it looked and it looked amazing. I pumped away eagerly like this for quite a while. There was an extra fission since it was such a dominating position to be in.

Michelle made no complaint but after a bit, I felt increasingly guilty. The poor girl was not merely contorted and in completely submissive position, but also jammed between wardrobe and bed. I felt I could not keep carrying on like this for too long.

Deciding I had taken my pleasure with her like this long enough, I disengaged and helped Michelle get back up off the floor. She guessed what I had in mind next, positioning herself at the edge of the bed on hands and knees. Standing on the floor behind her I eased back up inside her and set to work banging away hard at her firm rump. Splendid fun. Then I encouraged her to shuffle a little further onto the bed. I climbed up behind her, squatting down and riding her rather than simply kneeling behind her. More effort required from me, but a more intense experience. It was not long before I boiled over and exploded deep in her hot tight quim. Awesome! One of the hottest sessions of sex I've had in a long while.

After the room stopped swaying, I managed to pull myself off her and I slumped down beside Michelle. She cleaned away the condom and we cuddled and chatted. "You are very quiet," she commented. This was a surprise. Nowadays I try to keep the noise down, since so many girls have seemed alarmed when my grunts, groans and bellows of sheer delight are uninhibited. It's nice to be with a girl who wants a man to make it clear how much fun he is having. I'll be noisier next time I promise! We chatted of travel and holidays and I commented on the dancing around one sometimes gets involved in at HoD so visitors never get to see one another. My experiences in Manchester parlours tend to be that punters sit and have a cup of tea together and sometimes even a chat while waiting rather than hiding from one another.

Michelle asked if I'd like a shower - which I needed, having worked up a considerable sweat with our activities - and popped out to check if it was free. A slight awkwardness arose, as Michelle informed me another girl was waiting to use the room. I was obliged to discretely decamp with my clothes and bag to the shower so I could dress there once I had washed. A minor inconvenience but in line with the difference between Southern and Northern attitudes I'd been talking about earlier. I made my thanks and farewell to Michelle at this point.

After a quick wash, I got dressed and was guided out by the maid who thanked me for coming. But really the thanks should have been all mine to Michelle and to HoD for such a great time.

Overall:

I've had some really good sessions at HoD, but I think this is my hottest and most exhilarating yet. Michelle exceeded by some way my high expectations, her oral talents were spectacular, and the sex was just amazing. And she was such fun to be with, eager to please and seeming to enjoy herself as much as I did. A return visit is called for soon.
