The Premises:

To most who've been there, it's a well known downstairs flat. Since it was my first visit this might give the newbie's a heads up. Plenty of parking around the premises. 50p for an hour which is really good.

There's a train station down the road. Since I booked our meeting during office hours, parking might seem full, but there is plenty of vacant spaces behind the building or around. Just make sure to leave plenty of time just in case. I left 15 minutes ahead of time which paid off, as traffic on the M1 to Milton Keynes is always a headache.

Since the flat was downstairs the lift can be confusing to any new comer. In this case make sure you operate it to take you downstairs, then you're golden.

The Lady:

Lovely and easy going on Lianna's part. She made me feel at ease. Quite tall in her heels, since I am around 5ft 6". She's got a slim frame, size 8 I think she mentioned. Both pierced nipples for anybody into that sort of thing and very firm breasts, enough of a handful for me. Well spoken and quite a conversationalist on her part, I will mention more about this later on.

Photos on the site are accurate, can confirm that with the tattoos.

The Story:

Arrived around 15 minutes ahead of my planned schedule, since traffic on the M1 on that day was clogged up due to an earlier accident. Still managed arrive at the address ahead of time which was good, which gave more than enough time to find parking. There is plenty of spaces around the area and it's 50p for an hour which is nice. By the looks of it there are offices around, so everybody around gets along with their own business which wouldn't make one feel uncomfortable. There's also a train station not far. There's a Travelodge nearby the station and the main shopping centre is down the road, felt safe the whole time.

The lift that takes you up (or on this occasion down) doesn't clearly tell you which flats are numbered off, so for any newbie here like me, you might end up going on a tour via each floor in this building.

Eventually found the flat then Lianna welcomed me in wearing red bra and knickers.

As this was my first punt after a few years out of action I was quite nervous. Lianna made me feel at ease from the start, offered a drink as I was shown into the room. Got the paperwork out of the way and was offered a massage (to put me at ease), personally I am not a massage type.

I was quite taken away by her looks in person, so I didn't know where to start. I asked what she does not do, and she mentioned CIM and A-Level are a no no. Everything else was on offer, at her discretion of course, so we went with the flow.

Some light touching and stroking leading her to rub my balls with my boxers still on took me a bit to get going as my nerves were still playing up. I already showered when I left home, but she did give a wipe with a wet wipe before really getting down.

Her blowjob skills was divine! Just what I wanted! Some eye contact here and there. I was quite taken away by her technique. Still at the back of my mind I couldn't get over my nerves, but looking at how she was doing what she was doing I was more than ready to continue to play. I asked what her favourite position was, she replied with "doggie" then on with the condom and went in her with all fours. She was tight, I did what I could to hold off and enjoy what was before me. Now I'll just let your minds do the work from here on. She then changed position for cowgirl then towards the end finished off with some more oral and then finishing off on her lovely tits.

Not once did she do any clockwatching.

This is where my perspective might become subjective, but thought I'd express my view point and experience. Her company was throughout was amazing from start to finish. The room we were in was overlooking the front pavement where there were a couple of people outside having a smoke, wasn't sure if they might be residence who lived in the area or office workers, so I felt I couldn't be as vocal as I would've desired. Towards the last 10 minutes of our meeting, the buzzer on the flat was ringing. This might put others off. Turns out it was another client who was booked to see Lianna after me, but of course she wouldn't let the client in to sit around which is quite understandable. It seemed that there wasn't anybody else who was attending to the intercom so Lianna had to excuse me on two occasions to sort it out. She was very apologetic the whole time and she did seem quite annoyed by it, so was I but I suppose this could be a common occurrence when visiting a place like Annabellas.

Would I visit Lianna again? Damn right I would! Worth every second of the time with her. Staff over the phone were professional and texted the address after, and the professionalism was also provided by Lianna herself.

Treat her well, and you will have a great time!
