The Premises:

The Lady:

Tall, slender and leggy, her photos are spot on but don't show what a lovely face she has.

The Story:

To celebrate a particularly unwelcome birthday, I had my first ever outcall and it just had to be with Helen.

The lightest of taps on the door and there she was, looking stunning in a little black dress, tight in all the right places... The first wow moment of many.

As soon as the door was closed, we were snogging like teenagers, Helen pressing her body into mine causing an immediate and very welcome effect. My hands roaming over her body, lifting her dress to reveal black hold ups and a tiny thong in the mirror. When her dress off, she looked incredibly sexy in (of course) matching minimal undies, though they didn't stay on for long... Helen knows how to undress to impress.

When we were both naked, after more wonderfully erotic kissing and foreplay, on to the main event, a shared shower (I had booked this particular room as it had a large shower enclosure rather than the more usual bath/shower combo)- I've showered with Helen many times and it really is the most sensual thing to do - in my opinion better even than Nuru as the water is constantly flowing and there's always more shower gel to apply to wonderfully rounded body parts... Whatever feels good whilst dry feels even better in a cascading shower. So there we are still snogging and running our hands over each other when Helen squats down and takes me in her mouth - what a sublime experience this is... no teasing little lick, but full on sucking until the inevitable happens and I have the sort of orgasm that I didn't know I could still have. Kudos to Helen for not taking me out of her mouth until every last drop is drained.

Once dried off, we actually properly under the covers go to bed together to share some wine and more kisses and cuddles (Helen's hand particularly cuddling my cock, which is nice...) until it's time for her to go... I enjoy watching her dress - though obviously not as much as undressing, and then she's off, having spent much more time with me than the hour I'd booked her for.

I really can't recommend Helen highly enough - I've seen her often and every time she brings something new and exciting to the mix, not least of which is what seems to be an infinite wardrobe of classy yet sexy clothing (not 'outfits' or similar) - already fantasizing about what I want to see her in next...
