The Premises:

A very nice discreet apartment in a leafy Prestwich cul de sac with lots of good parking. Buzzer entry to the block where you would be very unlikely to be noticed.

The Lady:

As per her web profile apart from her hair is now auburn and longer rather than what I would call short. In my opinion the longer hair was a plus as it kept stroking my body along with her wonderful breasts during the massage.

The Story:

After a long break from punting and recently sex in general the itch returned however because my body and it's physical sexual prowess and energy had concerned me regarding my ability to 'perform.' I did remember previous tantric sessions in the first part of the 2000s and how the gradual build up had worked so well even then taken it's time taking a then very horny bloke and multiple repeater to a delayed orgasm. I looked at many ladies before choosing Tantric Alex who I had met quite a few years ago at a social and thought she was attractive then.

She met me at the door of her nice secluded apartment wearing matching bra and knickers and a warm smile. A welcoming kiss and through to the lounge where the massage table stood, I had a glass of sparkling mineral water and then when we had both undressed our encounter started. First of all there was a deep breathing and relaxation period while I stood the whole time, I was as nervous as was on my first punt many years ago but got so turned on with so little contact and even vision it amazed me.

Then I was lead to the massage table where I laid face down, then came the most amazing tantric massage, so tempting and constantly tantalising, breasts hovering over ones head, (like a naked dentist, Alex will get that), just amazing. Then a short break when I had a drink of my mineral water, (hands shaking) and then managed to turn over without faling off the table which the way I was feeling managed to impress me.

During the first part of the massage I had asked her to extend the meeting from a hour to a hour and a half, I almost regretted it as she took me into such realms of ecstasy, (sorry but that's how it was, I've obviously been missing out). The naked dentist fantasy bit got even better, (my dentist has never put my hand there before!) and I was really losing it but she kept on keeping me on the edge of heaven. Eventually with a combination of breath, (a real blow job) her mouth, tongue and fingers, (and only on my my request did she give me release). I can't remember such an amazing orgasm in a long time, she did say that it wasn't the most ridiculous cum face she had ever seen, I think the only time she lied during our time together.

Eventually I managed to get my wobbly body back into being able to move and got off the massage table and even managed to make my way into the shower.

My conclusions, a very attractive woman who is the 43 years that she states, a lovely warm and welcoming attitude and a body made for loving with amazing massage skills combined with sexual ones. Good intelligent and witty conversation that you would enjoy and feel comfortable with in any social situation, (I don't know if she does dinner dates but she would be ideal if she does). She is what I would call a classic Northern girl through and through, genuine with no bullshit but genuinely warm hearted.

There was the full penetrative sex GFE on offer for no extra money if I wanted on a very nearby bed but I know that with recent difficulties I would have wilted with a condom so stuck to what worked and it worked very well. I will definitely be back and would happily recommend her to anyone who wants more than just a shag or blow job from a booking.
