The Premises:

This lady advertises on Twitter and also as Madame Phoenix as an American based British Domme that comes to the UK for regular sessions. I contacted her via Twitter and email and also spoke with her. She asked for a 50% deposit paid via Paypal up front. Then the day before the appointment she calls me to say that a family member in London has been seriously injured so is cancelling all appointments and refunding the deposits. That was May...it's now late July and I'm still waiting and get no replies for my emails to her. A good old fashioned "clipping" scam...so I hope this review will help others avoid being out of pocket as I was.

The Lady:

As per her pictures and images on Twitter as Madame Phoenix and as per her website I assume as never met.

The Story:

Left out of pocket by Two Hundred Pounds as described above.
