The Story:

Fourth visit to a parlour. I found myself in Nottingham for the day, so I thought I'd dip my toe into the scene. I turned up at the door without a booking. The friendly woman who runs the place took me into the parlour room to explain the services on offer. It was around 4pm and there were about five women available. Throughout the experience, there was a friendly atmosphere.

It seems that this establishment is a traditional massage parlour with happy endings on offer. It's even possible to get a plain massage in this place if you want or even a spa service. Various levels of service were available but I opted for topless massage with hand relief.

I chose to see Kasey, a pretty woman in her 20s with a natural, tanned body and fairly big breasts. I looked at the pictures of her on the site afterwards, and I have to say she looked much slimmer in real life than in the pictures. She must have gone onto a weight loss routine since the pictures were taken. As an aside, it's worth noting that there are some good pictures on the site for the parlour, some of which do show the girl's faces, for a change. It might seem a bit sentimental, but it made a nice change to be able to save a few pictures of the girl that seen, and I wish more parlours would do this.

Money sorted, I followed Kasey upstairs. The rooms themselves are proper massage rooms with a massage table etc. Throughout the upstairs of the establishment, the the standard of cleanliness was very high. I was offered a shower (outside of the room), which I accepted.

Down to business. Kasey returned to the room topless. She then gave me a massage, and when I turned over, hand-relief. As had been specified in the downstairs reception room, Kasey reminded me that I was allowed to touch her (natural) boobs and bum, which I did throughout. Before too long, the desired result occurred.

Basically, I'd recommend the parlour if you are interested in the services on offer. It's friendly and clean with a good selection of women on offer.
